"THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH" TO BE GIVEN, JANUARY 16, IN HIGH SCHOOL HALL

The Scottish Musical Comedy Company, which is to appear under the auspices of the Arlington Teachers' Association in High School hall, on the evening of January 16, in a presentation of "The Bonnie Brier Bush," is the same company which made such a profound impression a few seasons ago in "The Cotter's Saturday Night."

"The Bonnie Brier Bush" is based on writings of the late Ian MacLaren, the incidents having been culled from "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," "In the days of Auld Lang Syne," and "Kate Carnegie." The sketch is in two acts, the first having to do with the causes of Flora Campbell leaving the glen, the second the occasion of rejoicing over her return. In the first act there is fine portrayal of types of Scottish character, in the second the singing of the gems of Scottish song for which this company is justly famous.

The personnel of the company follows: Jeanne Hunter Tanner as Margaret Howe; Margaret Alexander as Flora Campbell; Dr. Arthur Gould as the village postman; Victor Gilbert as Donald Hay, son of Lord Kilspindie; Daniel Ross as Lachlan Campbell; and John E. Daniels as William MacLure, a doctor of the old school.

MR. AND MRS. FRANKLIN WYMAN MARRIED HALF A CENTURY CELEBRATE EVENT

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wyman, at 135 Lake street, was the scene of a notable occasion on Tuesday evening, January 8th, when this well known couple, who have resided in Arlington, for a long period of years, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, surrounded by a host of friends and relatives.

On the beautifully engraved invitations sent out, a request was made that there be no gifts. While guests complied with this request in the matter of the more substantial tokens, the rooms in the spacious house were filled with flowers, arranged in gorgeous baskets, and in bouquets and so that there were everywhere evidences of the friendship and respect in which the couple are held, by their friends and relatives. It was a gorgeous display.

An orchestra was stationed in one of the rooms and played throughout the evening, among the numbers being the Lohengrin wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Wyman received from 6 until 10 o'clock. The bride of fifty years, looked more like one of twenty-five, so lightly does she carry her years, and she made a charming picture in her gown of light gray broadcated velvet chignon over orchid silk, with slippers and nose to match. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

In the dining room a supper was served by an out-of-town caterer. The table decoration was unusual and unique. It was a large reflector on crystal standards, about which were crystal vases containing daffodils. On the reflector was a gold colored candy basket with decoration of white roses with green leaves. This was filled with candies.

The occasion was notable for the presence of many long time residents of Arlington, and especially, of eleven who attended the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman. Also the presence of two other couples, who had celebrated their fiftieth anniversary. These latter were, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kimball, of Arlington, who have been married fifty-five years, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bailey, of Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman were married in Waltham, January 8th, 1874, by Rev. Amos Harris, at that time, minister of the First Baptist church in Arlington.

Mrs. Wyman (Lucy Adelaide), is the daughter of the late Charles W. and Lucy E. (Fillibrown) Wilson, and was born in New York, August 24th, 1853, but her early life was spent in Waltham. Since her marriage, Mrs. Wyman has always been prominently identified with the First Baptist church, in Arlington. She is a member of the Arlington Woman's Club, and Menotomy Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. Wyman was born in Arlington (then West Cambridge), March 3rd, 1849, the second child of Abner P. and Sarah M. Wyman. He, like his father, has always been engaged in market gardening and is one of the most prosperous farmers in this section of the country, as is his brother, Mr. Daniel Wyman, of Arlington, with whom he is associated in business, carrying on the well known Wyman farm, on Lake street. He is a member of the Boston Market Gardeners' Association, and many of the members were present at the reception. Like his wife, Mr. Wyman has been prominently identified with the First Baptist church, and at present is serving as a member of the standing committee. He has been a director of the Menotomy Trust Company, formerly the First National Bank, ever since it was started. He is a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the DeMolay Commandry, and of Bethel Lodge, No. 12, I. O. O. F., and of the Arlington Historical Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman have three children and six grandchildren, all of whom were present at the anniversary, the children assisting their parents in dispensing hospitality. They are, Charles F. Wyman, of Arlington; Herbert F. Wyman, of Natick; Mrs. Roger Sherman, Jr., of Brookline, Mass., and Mr. Arthur P. Wyman, of Arlington.

The evening had a happy conclusion when Mr. and Mrs. Wyman walked down the room to the music of the wedding march, after a mock ceremony had been performed by Dr. Henry Sterling Potter. A shower of confetti and the dancing of the Virginia reel, ended the festivities.

—Ex-City Councillor William J. Ahearn, of Cambridge, whose present address is 637 Dudley street, Dorchester, was in District Court at East Cambridge, on Tuesday, on the charge of passing two worthless checks amounting to $112. Ahearn was given a week to make restitution and pay a fine, otherwise he will serve a jail sentence. Back of the court case is an interesting story in which William V. Taintor, a well known garage man of this town, displayed keen detective ability. The checks were given to Mr. Taintor last summer for repair work and new tires. He accepted the same in good faith and gave Ahearn the difference between the bill and checks in currency. A few days after they were deposited, announcement was received that there was no such party doing business with the bank mentioned. Mr. Taintor put the police on the trail, but Ahearn kept out of the way. The day the bad checks were passed Ahearn had a friend held a tea in Brattle Hall, Cambridge, on Thursday, January 3rd. Mrs. Mildred Pike, of Boston, gave Square and among the people on the street, recognized this friend of Ahearn's. Through this man Mr. Taintor obtained the address of the party sought, notified the police who brought the man into court as above stated.

BOK PRIZE AWARDED

Whatever may be the final outcome in the way of general legislation by the United States Government, if the subject reaches that stage, Mr. Bok has rendered large and important service to his country and the world as a whole by his offer of the unusual money prize that was awarded to an unknown writer a few days ago.

In the first place it focused the eyes of the world on the one absorbing topic—"Peace on the earth." In the next, it brought responses from over two thousand writers who deemed themselves competent to deal with a subject of this supreme importance and able to offer a plan for solution of an intricate problem. Thirdly it has commanded the co-operation of the editors of several thousand daily and weekly papers, magazines and other periodicals that have given large space if not in all cases sufficient to contain the document entire. Lastly and more important than all else, Mr. Bok has made a majority of our more than a hundred million people stop and think of what are their personal duties and responsibilities.

In considering the answer to be given in the blank form of vote, it should be kept in mind that the plan is a one-man affair; that the award by the committee implies no endorsement on their part; also, the individuals and publications that have hastened to give it unqualified approval.

Our object in giving the matter a prominent place in this issue is to awaken if possible, interest in political affairs that great block of influential citizens whose neglect of duties lies at the root of nearly all undesirable conditions that obtain in this country.

In another section of this week's issue we give a synopsis of the suggestions presented by the prize winner and directly beneath the blank form for a vote, either yes or no, on the plan prepared. We hope all our readers will give this matter the careful thought it is entitled to receive and comply with the request of the committee of award to mail such vote to the address printed on the ballot.

The United States is a great, a kindly disposed, a progressive nation. As nowhere else, power reposes with the registered voters. When aroused and thought is focused on some great cause, its action has always been wise. What goal is more to be desired than reaching that where "man shall learn war no more." If the path to it, even if in outline only, has been disclosed, why not walk in it, with sure and steady step, confident that further "light shall guard and guide steps" as has always been the case when motive is high and purpose right.

CROP OF NEW VOTERS IN 1924

This is a "presidential year," that is, in November of this year a President to serve four years from the following March 4th, is to be chosen. In that election thousands of young men will cast their first ballot. It will be cast with a pride that older voters easily recall. The country is interested in whether or no it shall express intelligence and patriotic purpose. The welfare of the country as a whole ought to be a governing factor.

The stern necessity that decided our progenitors to adopt a protective policy regarding manufactures will remain a necessity until such times as labor conditions elsewhere attain the scale almost universal in this country. For this reason we ask the young voters to make a study of this theme, for it will have a prominent place in the campaign of 1924. Statistics and dates gathered at the nation's capitol prove that last year was a prosperous one.

In our view of the situation, this was true because of the U. S. policy regarding articles of import that would otherwise have been dumped here at a cost home manufacturers could not compete. People who argue otherwise overlook the fact that our prosperity does not depend so much upon imports and exports as it does upon how much we produce in the United States and how much we consume. There is not another country in the world so well equipped to produce all it consumes and to consume all it produces as is the United States. Such a condition requires an entirely different application of political economy than do the conditions in all other countries.

Young men and young women who are to be first voters this year, think this thing over, view it from every possible angle and seek information wherever obtainable.

NUMBER OF CHRISTMAS SEALS SOLD, GREATER THAN EVER BEFORE

Dr. Edward O. Otis, President of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League, sent the following letter to those who have participated in the work of the recent successful Health Christmas Seal drive in Massachusetts:

The President desires to send greetings and congratulations to the many workers who have so energetically promoted the Christmas Seal Sale over the state. From present indications our success is assured and the number of seals sold has been greater than ever before. This means not only a continuance of our present tuberculosis activities, but increased opportunity for extending and enlarging our work, as experience and investigation shall indicate the need.

One of the most important of our activities at the present time is, the introduction of the Children's Health Crusade in the schools throughout the state. I consider this one of the most valuable weapons in the campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis. Now, as never before, is attention being directed to the preservation of child health, and in order that this may be accomplished, it is of fundamental importance that the well child should early establish proper habits of personal hygiene, in order that he may remain well and reach maturity with a sound and vigorous body.

The mortality from tuberculosis is steadily decreasing in this state and more lives escape this dread disease, every year. This beneficent result is due in no small degree to the many faithful workers throughout the state. It may seem a small thing to sell a few Christmas seals, but who knows how much loss and suffering even the price of a few seals may avert?—and a little child can do this. It is an inspiring work and a privilege to be engaged in this great humanitarian service.

The President begs to wish every worker a Happy New Year and to express to all his gratitude for their unselfish endeavors in the great cause of fighting tuberculosis.

May this joyous season be a very happy one for you, who are so well exemplifying the truth of the words of Marley's ghost—that mankind and the common welfare is your business.

EDWARD O. OTIS, M. D.

A NATION'S FOUNDATION IS THE HOME

The home is the factory of character. Only by the help of the home can the schools and the churches and the newspapers and the government make growing girls and boys into the right kind of men and women. The home is also a place of relaxation, where a man is rewarded for having lived cleanly and worked well. It can yield more satisfaction, more downright happiness, than all the high offices and honors, than all the extravagant pastimes the world has to offer. And yet, the home seems to be losing its attraction. The home-cooked supper, the quiet family gathering in the evening are yielding, bit by bit, to the restaurant, the theatre, the dance-hall, and the club. The younger members of the family rush in to change their clothes, and are gone again. Father and mother betake themselves to a card party. From seven to midnight, the home lights are out.

To hold its own against twentieth-century distractions, the home must be a place where the family loves to stay. How shall we make it so?

In the first place, by making it good to look at, inside and out. A few little blemishes are enough to mar it; on the outside, an ill-kept lawn, too much shrubbery of the wrong kind, dingy paint; on the inside, wrong colors in the curtains and the rugs, badly placed furniture, poorly chosen pictures, a tasteless mess of bric-a-brac on the mantel shelf. Knowing how to drive ugliness out and bring beauty in, belongs as much to the art of good housekeeping as sweeping the floor and washing the dishes.

In the second place, by finding some activity which father and mother and the young folks can enjoy together. Not many years ago, the family used to gather around the piano after supper for an old-fashioned sing. The shabby, tattered song book, unearthed from the bottom of the music rack, held all the old favorites: "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party," "Tenting Tonight," "Nellie Gray," "The Soldier's Farewell," and enough more to last till bedtime. And the late traveler, as he went by the house, knew that a happy family lived within.

Perhaps nowadays the songs we used to sing are too familiar to compete with the hysterical vigor of the jazz orchestra. But for all that, there is now a better chance than ever before to have good music in the home. We have the radio; we have the victrola; and we have, at the cost of a little hunting, hundreds

THE GOLDEN EAGLET SCOUT

Character, ability, health, happiness and service are the five points of a new star which has arisen in the Girl Scout world. For twelve years now, scouts entering this informal play school have been trained in a triple ideal: home, health and citizenship, rising by degrees from tenderfoot scout to first class, then after a period of probation distinguished by much hard work and study, and some out-standing achievement for service to the community, reaching the highest rank possible in this movement, that of Golden Eaglet Scout.

To this present plan there has now been added an additional unit, the National Order of the Golden Eaglet, an organization intended to include all those who attain this highest rank, and to preserve through its membership the ideals for which it and the whole scout organization stands. To the three scout ideals—home, health, citizenship, two more are added—character and happiness.

The general aim of this movement and of this new order in particular, according to its founder, Mrs. Arthur Choate, of New York, is to produce the "nearest possible approach to the perfect American girl" and these five points are taken as "the fundamentals on which the scouts must build." Character is defined as "the power to stick to what one thinks is right, not to be led by someone else's opinion." Ability is explained as "the ability to do things with heart and hands."

Health is a one-word embodiment of the idea that "A Golden Eaglet should radiate health, both of the body and of the mind." Happiness is "the sum result of all these and the by-product of them," and service to the community is "that which justifies self-development, and gives it an ennobling purpose."

It is intended moreover that this new Order of the Golden Eaglet shall be an auxiliary to the officers and other adult leaders in the Girl Scout organization, a senate of the scouts who have passed through the training courses, a reserve from which commissioners, directors, troop captains, and other workers can draw assistance and future leaders to take their place. Above all, however, it is intended to embody the principle that when a Girl Scout has attained this highest rank, her work is not done, that "the great principles of duty to God and Country, helpfulness to others, and obedience to the scout laws, are lessons that no scout can fully learn as long as she lives."

In Massachusetts this new order was founded in recognition of the fact that the scout organization in this state is contemporary in age with the national organization, and is successfully in operation to a degree not equalled in any other state of the Union. It is planned to extend the order, however, to include eventually every Golden Eaglet Scout throughout the United States in obedience to these ideals. At present the order includes 90 Golden Eaglets in Massachusetts, one in Connecticut and four in Rhode Island.

HELP THE BIRDS

Millions of dollars are lost to agriculture every year through harmful insects. The birds are their natural enemies. They also destroy the seeds of weeds, act as scavengers, and in the winter eat the eggs and grubs of insects.

Most states having ornithologists have requested that persons kindly disposed towards birds place food in their usual haunts. The cold season is here and, with regular supply of food cut off, the birds are now facing the period in which there is great danger of extermination by starvation. Although the songsters have migrated, the ones remaining deserve attention.

A little grain will do much to relieve the birds' distress during the winter. Of, if this is too much trouble, table crumbs thrown to them will be welcome. Watching the cat will also be appreciated, and this is small enough compensation for services rendered.

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

If there is anything in your town worth talking about ten chances to one your own newspapers had a hand in putting it there. If anybody beyond the walls of your burg ever learns that there is such a place as Three Corners it will be through the home paper.

Every town gets its money's worth through the home newspapers. It's the wagon that carries all your goods to market. It ought to be kept in good repair. It will pay to grease it, paint it and keep its running gears in good shape and shelter. They are the guardians and defenders of every interest, the fore-runners and pioneers of every movement and the sturdy advocates of law and order.

THE LAST COMMUNITY FORUM OF THE SEASON LARGELY ATTENDED

Another season of successful community forum meetings, conducted by the Arlington Woman's Club, was brought to a close last Sunday afternoon, when the fifth and final address of a program of rare, surpassing interest was delivered in the Robbins Memorial Hall, by Miss Helen Fraser, parliamentary candidate at the 1922 British election. Fittingly and despite the winter's low temperature mark, the largest audience of the season greeted the speaker and at intervals during her discourse gave outward manifestation of its pleasure and approval of her treatment of the subject, "World Problems and Solutions."

Mrs. William A. Muller, having had intimate acquaintance with Miss Fraser, while the former was dean at the Colorado College, at Colorado, was chosen as chairman of the afternoon, and in a graceful and easy manner introduced the speaker, previous to which, however, there was a short musical program, consisting of two violin selections by Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing. They were a Cavatina by Karl Bohm and a Rondino by Kreisler. The graceful artistry and technique of the performer was deservedly applauded. Miss Abbie Hasseltine was an appropriate and pleasing accompanist.

Reduced to its simplest terms, Miss Fraser's address was an advocacy of an internationalism, or international unity, predicated upon an intelligent and unselfish national patriotism and the advancement and development of individual thought and action. Beginning with the inquiry, "Should the average individual take an interest in the solution of world problems or be content to leave their solution with the politicians?" the speaker contended that the hope of world progress necessarily rested upon the knowledge that the world must be advanced by individual development. It was of the greatest importance to have a mental attitude toward our problems, whether they are world problems or whether they can be solved within the nation. Patriotism was not enough. Something greater was needed, although one could not be a good internationalist unless one was a patriot. A love, however, of humanity, like that of the martyred Edith Cavell, was essential as a foundation.

In the world of today the spirit of nationalism is rampant, but there is also a growing consciousness of unity among countries. However, the sentiment of one country for another is often more dangerous than a dispassionate attitude. It is not safe to build on fleeting emotional sentiments; we must ascertain the psychology of a country, its defects and the qualities which make for intercourse among nations. A passing emotional attachment is too fleeting to be used as a basis for a sound and permanent unity.

Western nations, said the speaker, are thought to be unhappy and with no more intellectual security or happiness about world or domestic affairs than the peoples of Europe. Before the war there was a background ideal of possibility. The Victorian background of idealism was shattered by the World War. We are conscious today of an inability to coordinate and explain the whole difficulty. We are feeling out for some explanation of the universe, that will help our advancement to a definite point. A generation later will understand no more of the sufferings and anguish of today than the people of today do of former generations, unless new basic ideals can be substituted. We cannot fight war by a frontal attack, because in so doing we will be against substituting a new ideal. The really valuable work of the League of Nations is, what it is doing in getting the nations to work together constructively, rather than what it has done in the adjustment of quarrels between nations.

Constructive work is a far better step toward the elimination of the antagonisms of the future. The League is working for the health of the world. Disease knows no frontier and can be controlled only by unified international work. Discoveries of science are being used for the benefit of the whole world. There must be a unified agreement about the control of such things as epidemics, leprosy, drug traffic and what may be called slavery. Different countries must not have different standards in regard to such things.

There are many definite ways to help by strengthening all the bodies controlling world actions, the League of Nations, the Red Cross, the great voluntary organizations, such as the Student Friendship groups. The more groups the better, such bonds make for a real strengthening of the world.

The finest, which the League is doing is toward the strengthening of the International World Court. The nations of the world cannot call themselves civilized until they have established among themselves the laws which we already recognize. Rome is an example of how every nation goes down if it cannot answer certain test questions of civilization. Can we establish law between nations? The old argument was that law was no use unless there was force behind it, but its basis is not simply one of force. Force sanctions are created for the law not law as a result of force sanctions.

The issues to be considered are governmental and economic. There are two lines of thought about governments, the revolutionary and the more conservative, inclined to bank on authoritative control returning to the autocracy, rather than trusting in the rule and law of the many. Italy with Mussolini, represents an absolute swing toward communism, but is really not touching and dealing with the rights of the people. Spain is divided. England is not extreme, yet large numbers of people are swinging this way and that attempting to solve the problems of government.

The economic issues are the really important ones; what share of the material of this world, the individuals are going to get. In England the Labor Party, in number less than one third the House of Commons, will go into power to defeat the Conservatives soon after the opening of Parliament. The masses trying to find a solution have set up another party, socialistic in philosophy, but concerned with how the nations are going to have a decent life, how all individuals are going to have full and equal rights. America has far less difficulty and bitterness in this respect than many parts of Europe.

Are we going to succeed in making the material serve the spiritual, to build up a worth while civilization? The people of today are losing the feeling of having a vocation. They are becoming cogs of a machine and less real men and women. Every human being is a genius if developed but have we built all of man that we should in this great world of ours? People are bred incessantly wanting, who will neither work nor approach their objective rightly. How much of morality and conscience is built in the great machine of the world? Not nearly enough. The help of all is needed in the great field of working out educational systems for better men and women. The scientific mind is needed which approaches without too much predisposition, surveying the problems carefully. The solution does not lie along political lines but where there are large masses. Is our mechanistic civilization worth giving to eastern nations unless it does develop finer and better men and women?

The civilizations would come through the tests quite well on certain lines and poorly on others. Are we really struggling for the right things? To the eastern world our civilization is a denial of Christianity. Ours is a struggle for power, where the basis of Christianity is a struggle for perfection and serving is the only real rule. Power may be a profoundly evil thing. We must build for excellence in work and for perfection. Beck says that we over-value phrases and under-value truths, we over-value rights and under-value duties, we over-value democracy and under-value individualism. The solution of world problems does not lie in our own country; the ultimate test rests on the individual.

When the great answer of the Universe is unrolled before us it will satisfy every bit of our emotions and desires, and reveal the great truth of our unity; that we are all almost truly one. We cannot truly love ourselves unless we love our neighbors. A sense of tolerance results from a sense of proportion. The seas of the ocean are like the seas of the world, regarded by all and seen in myriads of ways. So all truths are comparative, bringing to the universe a sense of diversity. Tolerance helps us to understand and know the other fellow through a sense of proportion. When we can work together in a sense of tolerance and good will it will help to bring later generations into a better light than we have yet.

At the conclusion of Miss Fraser's speech, Mrs. Curtis Waterman announced that the voluntary contributions collected, together with the club's own appropriation would be enough to finance the season's program just completed. She extended the thanks of the Club to the Arlington people for their cooperation in interest and attendance, also to the sympathetic chairmen of other organizations, and especially to the able committee, consisting of Mrs. Frederick A. Sawyer, Mrs. Nelson B. Crosby, Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson, Mrs. George B. C. Rugg and Miss Ethel Wellington. Also to the newspapers who had been so generous in reporting the Forums and to the different organizations who had assisted by their ushering.

HOLY NAME SOCIETIES MEET AT ST. AGNES' CHURCH

Sunday afternoon the Holy Name Societies of St. Agnes' and St. James' churches of Arlington; St. Bridget's, of Lexington and St. Raphael's, of West Medford, held a joint meeting in St. Agnes' church. Sunday was the Feast of the Holy Name of Jesus and throughout the country these mass meetings were held, every society of that name holding a meeting somewhere on that day. Upward of 1000 men gathered in St. Agnes' church to take part in the impressive service. In the morning every member received Holy Communion in their respective churches. In the afternoon the men were addressed by Rev. Hubert Welch, a North Cambridge resident before his ordination, and now a missionary of the Dominican Order. Rev. Fr. Welch took for his subject, "What is the most important question in the Catechism?" his answer being, "Why did God create Me?" He gave as the real and true answer, the words of the catechism, "That I might know Him, love Him and serve Him in this world, and be happy with Him forever in the next world." Fr. Welch is a very able speaker and drew many inspiring word pictures of people who had achieved by conforming to the rule of life he had presented.

Each society was accompanied by its prefect, St. Agnes' being in charge of Rev. Donald F. Simpson, who opened the service; St. James' by Rev. John J. Morrissey; St. Bridget's by pastor, Rev. William McCarthy, and St. Raphael's by pastor, Rev. George P. Glennon. These with Rev. Mathew J. Flaherty, pastor of St. Agnes' church and Rev. Joseph J. Leonard, assistant, sat within the chancel.

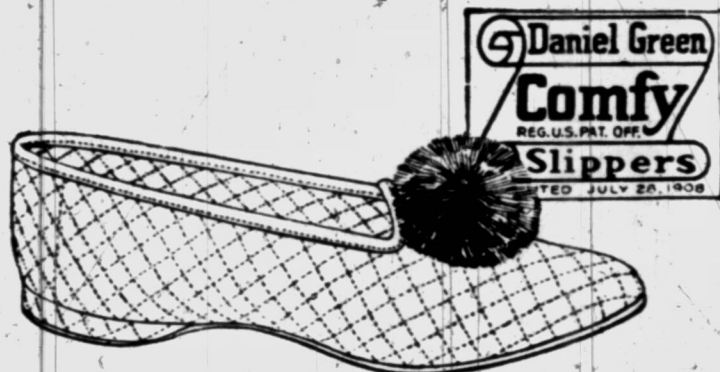

During Benediction, "O Salutaris," was sung by John R. Hendrick, with violin obligato, by Miss Alice Kearney. The "Tantum Ergo," was sung by Mrs. Mary Maddigan, soprano; Mrs. Mary Quinn Delany, contralto; Joseph Chisholm, baritone; Thomas A. Dineen and J. R. Hendrick, bass.

Chats with
Gas Man

To those who use gas service efficiently in modern appliances, every week of the year is "thrifty week." However, modern appliances alone can't do the trick. They must be operated efficiently.

One cardinal rule to remember is: Do not light the gas until you are ready to use it and don't permit the flames to overlap the utensil or other article. You won't heat the utensil any faster by forcing the flames to overlap the bottom. All you do is to waste gas.

Turn off the gas the second you are done with it. A few minutes' wait burns gas without reason, and the gas can be relighted in an instant. It is small thrifty hints like these, followed day by day over a month, that prevent large bills and enable gas service to give full satisfaction.

THE BOK PEACE PLAN PRIZE WINNER CHOSEN

Some months ago Mr. Edward W. Bok, a retired publisher, who had won world wide fame through his success, offered a prize of one hundred thousand dollars for the best practical plan by which the United States might cooperate with other nations to prevent war, and named a committee of eminent people to make the award. The contest closed with the old year. There were 22,165 contestants and twenty-two countries were represented. The judges have awarded the prize to No. 1,469, they being uninformed regarding the personality of all contestants. To No. 1,469 at once comes $50,000. The turning over the other half awaits the popular verdict of the American people, regarding the feasibility of the plan endorsed by the judges. For the purpose of enabling our readers to participate, we print below a form to be filled out for voting, preceded by a brief outline of the provisions of the paper the judges have approved, as follows:—

SUMMARY OF PEACE PLAN WHICH BOK JURY REFERS TO PEOPLE OF U. S.

The substantial provisions of the peace plan selected by the Bok jury of award, on which the vote of the American people is asked, follows:

I. Enter Permanent Court

That the United States adhere to the permanent court of international justice for the reasons and under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.

II. Co-operate With League Of Nations

That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States Government should extend its present cooperation with the league and propose participation in the work of its assembly and council under the following conditions and reservations:

Safeguard Monroe Doctrine

1. In uniting its efforts with those of other states for the preservation of peace and the promotion of the common welfare, the United States insists upon the safeguarding of the Monroe Doctrine and does not abandon its traditional attitude concerning American independence of the old world.

No Military or Economic Force

2. The only kind of compulsion which nations can freely engage to apply to each other in the name of peace is that which arises from conference, from moral judgment, from full publicity, and from the power of public opinion.

The United States will assume no obligations under art. X, in its present form, or under art. XVI, in its present form in the covenant.

No Obligations Under Treaty

3. The United States will accept no responsibilities under the treaty of Versailles unless, in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

League Open to All Nations

4. The United States Government proposes that art. I. of the covenant be construed and applied, or, if necessary, redrafted, so that admission to the league shall be assured to any self-governing state.

Development of International Law

5. As a condition of its participation in the work and counsels of the league, the United States asks that the assembly and council consent—or obtain authority—to begin collaboration for the revision and development of international law, employing for this purpose the aid of a commission of jurists.

Independence

The reasons for the failure of thousands to attain independence are:

Because they do not save.

Because they forget that earning capacity declines in later years.

Because they ignore the fact that sooner or later they will meet with reverses.

Because they fail to realize that it isn't what they earn, but what they save, that counts.

DR. JAMES E. COONS ADDRESSES AN ARLINGTON AUDIENCE

Those who were among the audience in the Calvary M. E. church, Sunday evening, will recall with pleasure the address given by Dr. James E. Coons, superintendent of the Lynn district. It was a clear, inspiring call for service in the church and in daily life. His appeal was to young and old alike. His wholesome humor kept coming to the surface in refreshing measure, though all the while his talk carried sharp points.

Dr. Coons took as a text for his topic, "What are you good for?" the episode in the life of Moses, when God answered his complaint that he could do nothing by saying, "What is that in thy hand?" Later on that same rude staff which Moses carried, was the symbol that divided the sea. So, Dr. Coons pointed out, we are responsible for that which is in our hands, no matter how small these talents may be. No gift is so mean that it cannot be made a great force for good, if dedicated to the work of God.

ARLINGTON MEN ENTERTAINED AT THE MILLS OF BIRD &amp; SON

Walter F. Law, of G. W. Blanchard & Company and Philip T. Robinson, of the Arlington Coal & Lumber Company, were among the sixty salesmen and representatives of members of The Lumber Trade Club located in the vicinity of Boston, entertained at the mills of Bird & Son, East Walpole and Norwood, on Saturday, January 5th.

The visitors made the trip in motor busses provided for them. They were first conducted through the floor covering mill, where they saw the whole manufacturing process, starting with the saturating of the felt with hot asphalt, through the undercoat paint process, to the immense new print machine which imprints intricate and beautiful patterns and finally the finishing room, where the rugs are inspected and rolled for shipment.

The paper mills, fibre case shop and wall-board mills were visited in the afternoon, where the visitors saw how the raw stock is "beaten" up into pulp, or through the many processes to the four mammoth paper machines, with a daily capacity of over 140 tons of finished paper; to the veritable labyrinth of complicated machinery, leading on still further to the equipment which converts the paper into wall, board, fibre cases, shoe cartons and cartridge wadding.

RECENT DEATHS

PATRICK COYNE

Patrick Coyne, a resident of this town from early manhood, died at his home, 15 Park street, on Monday, following an illness, which extended over a long period. He lived in the vicinity of Park street, for many years and every one in that section was his friend as was shown in the many floral tributes banked about his casket and the very large attendance at his funeral services in St. Agnes' church, on Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Joseph J. Leonard, musical sections of the mass being sung by members of the church choir. Burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

MISS MARGARET E. MALLON

The funeral took place on Wednesday morning, from the Dolan residence, a solemn high mass of requiem being celebrated in St. Agnes' church, with Rev. Robert Hinchcliffe, of Dorchester, celebrant; Rev. Joseph J. Leonard, deacon; and Rev. Donald F. Simpson, sub-deacon. Music for the service was by members of the choir, Mrs. Mary Quinn Delany singing "Pie Jesu," at the time of the offertory, and "De Profundis," at the close of the mass. Burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

A play that is sharply and sensationally "different" is promised next week at the St. James, where George A. Giles will present the Boston Stock Company in "The Crooked Square," a melodrama by Samuel Shipman and Alfred C. Kennedy. The play was originally produced by Mrs. Henry B. Harris at the Hudson Theatre, with Constance Binney, the noted stage and screen star, in the leading role. The play will be seen at the St. James for the first time outside the boundaries of Broadway. The precise story of the play deals with the coming to New York of a Southern girl with an ambition to make a place for herself. What happens is intensely interesting and with the unique characters of the plot the fare at the St. James this week is tempting. For the occasion, Mr. Giles has assembled a large cast.

—The Ladies' Sodality, of St. Agnes' church, resumed its meetings on Tuesday evening, with Rev. Joseph J. Leonard in charge.

—Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold its next meeting on Monday evening, in their hall, on Mystic street. This is the first meeting of the new year and the officers have arranged an interesting program for the evening.

—George McLellan, of 122 Appleton street, is on the Honor Roll in his studies at Kent's Hill Seminary, at Kent's Hill, Maine. He accomplished this in addition to playing a star game as guard on the football team.

—A dress form class will be held January 14th, from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m., in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church. Mrs. Draper will give free demonstration in the morning, and making forms in the afternoon. Coffee will be served, but all who attend the class are expected to bring their luncheon.

—Neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gallagher, who have resided in Arlington for a long period of years, are missing them. They are residing in Wrentham, Mass., this winter among friends, with the hope that the change will prove beneficial to Mr. Gallagher, whose health made it necessary some time ago to give up active business.

—Edward Burke, of 20 Lancaster road, reported to the police on last Thursday, that while he was taking the baby census on Lakehill avenue, he was bitten by a dog. Burke is taking the census for the town clerk's office and was in discharge of his duty when attacked. The wound is not considered serious.

—Roger Downs and Wesley Nowell, the two boys hurt last week, while coasting, are reported as recovering from their injuries. The Downs boy had a slight fracture of the skull, but is responding to the treatment. The Nowell boy had three ribs broken, but these are mending satisfactorily.

—Last Friday evening in St. Agnes' church, the devotion of the Holy Hour was held, this service being attended by a large number and a special musical program being given in connection with the service by Howard Hayes, tenor; Bernard F. Kelley, baritone; Miss Katherine Carroll, soprano. The service was conducted by the director, Rev. Joseph J. Leonard.

—Arlington is fortunate in having one of the big plows which the state is loaning to towns and cities for the winter. The plow came in handy on Sunday morning to remove our first heavy fall of snow. The plow opens up the highways so that traffic can be maintained easily. Long before daylight on Sunday morning there was a gang of men out with snow plows and shovels to open up the sidewalks and streets for travel. In many sections the citizens do not enjoy this service and residents of Arlington may well congratulate themselves.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Brine, of 90 Jason street, Arlington, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Louise Brine, to John P. O'Hearn, son of Mrs. Mary O'Hearn and the late Patrick O'Hearn, of 126 Melville avenue, Dorchester. The formal announcement was made public at a dinner-dance in the Copley Plaza for about fifty young friends of the couple. Miss Brine is a graduate of Sacred Heart Convent, of Boston; the Visitation Convent, of Washington, D. C., and the Garland school, of Boston. She is also active in the Ace of Clubs and the Cecilia Guild, of which she is a member. Mr. O'Hearn is a member of the class of 1921, of Holy Cross College. No date has been set for the wedding.

—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Waage, formerly of Arlington, are now in Van Nuys, California, and on Sunday, December 30th, entertained Mrs. John Lindsey, of this town, who is spending the winter months in California, and at that time was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Clapp, of Pasadena, also former residents of Arlington. On New Year's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Clapp entertained Mr. Waage and family at the Rose Tournament, in Pasadena, where they witnessed the flower parade which is an annual event in California. Miss Alice Waage, one of the daughters of the family, has written the Advocate in which note she says while they are enjoying California, they miss their friends in Arlington.

—The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Friday afternoon, January 4th, with Mrs. Warren A. Peirce, at her home on Academy street. The President, Mrs. W. S. Leland, who has served the Union for two years, presided over the business of the meeting at which the following officers were elected to serve for a year:—President, Mrs. Warren A. Peirce; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Herbert Munroe; Mrs. H. T. Gregory; Mrs. Ernest Spaulding; Mrs. Mary Winn and Mrs. G. M. Thomas; Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Stevens; Treasurer, Mrs. John Leitch. After the business session at which time reports were read, Mrs. Ernest Spaulding gave a paper on, "The effect of light wines and beer in Quebec." The "Comfort Bags," that had been made by the members, for the Seamen's Friend Society, The Baptist Bethel and the Lumbermen, were brought in at this time, and were read by Mrs. G. M. Dutcher, an original poem in relative to these bags, in which she brought in the name of all the members in the Union, who had contributed to the bags. The poem was bright and was greatly enjoyed by all present. At the conclusion of the meeting, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

—The police were called on to investigate two more petty breaks on Monday, in East Arlington, similar to those of some weeks ago. The amount taken was small in both instances.

—Thursday evening in connection with the meeting of St. Malachi Court, M. C. O. F., in Hibernian Hall, there was a whist party for the members, followed by dancing. Many souvenirs were awarded for the best scores.

—A truck owned by the Arlington Wet Wash, caught fire on Monday evening, and an alarm from Box 24 was sent in. The fire did not reach the wet wash and the only damage done was the burning out of a few wires.

—The literary and social meeting of the Social Alliance, of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, will be held Monday afternoon, January 14, in the parlor of the church. The speaker will be, Miss Edith Jones, who will take for her subject, "The foreign born at the Bulfinch Place church."

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Dodge have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Charles Waldo Lovejoy, of Rumford, Maine. Mrs. Lovejoy has been staying with her parents in the absence of her husband, who accompanied his father, Mr. Elmer L. Lovejoy, to Pinehurst, where the latter is in the habit of spending the winter.

—The annual Ladies' Night of Arlington Lodge of Elks will take place in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, next Wednesday evening. This is one of the biggest affairs of the local lodge for the coming year and already practically every seat is spoken for. The committee has arranged a very fine concert program to be given during the banquet and after the banquet there will be dancing.

—O. J. Anderson, of Arlington, is on the list of judges selected to officiate in the annual show of the Westminster Kennel Club, in Madison Square Garden, New York, February 11, 12, and 13. Four of the judges are from outside of the United States. They are Norman K. Swire, of Toronto; Walter H. Reeves, of Belleville, Canada; William Humphries, of England, and F. Calvert Butler, also of England.

—In connection with the putting up of the new hockey rink at Spy Pond field, due credit must be given Dr. William T. McCarty and Superintendent of Schools Chester Moody, for the good work they did in spiking the boards together and setting them in place. Mr. Moody stated that he worked so hard that he forgot all about the new year coming in and his need of getting his new number plates for his automobile, and "almost" got pinched.

—The stone blocks to encase the stand-pipe at the top of Arlington Heights, at Park circle, have been put in place and the roof has also been put on, so that now a fairly good idea can be obtained of how the tower will look when completed. It was the desire of those in charge, to have this work completed before severe cold weather came on and they have been able to do this. Work is not being pushed, but before spring comes, it is probable that the entire structure will be completed. There are the stairs to be built and some tiling to be done.

—Thursday evening, in G. A. R. Hall, the elective and appointed officers of Francis Gould Post 36, were installed, the full roster being as follows:—

Commander George H. Averill
Senior Vice Commander Charles P. Kellogg
Junior Vice Commander Benj. F. Wright

Surgeon Henry A. Gorham
Quartermaster Henry Clark
Officer of the Day Andrew McGinnis
Lieut. of the Guard Henry W. Berthrong
Patriotic Instructor Charles S. Parker

The flight of time is indicated in above list. George F. Green, the sergeant major, who is assistant to the adjutant, is a son of a veteran and member of Camp 45. Other drafts from the younger generation for the more active stations will be necessary in the not distant future.

Past Department Commander Edwin P. Merrill was the installing officer.

—It has been a pleasure for friends of John D. Sanford to meet him about our streets after an absence of several years. It will be remembered that Mr. Sanford went across with the Morton-Harjes unit when war in Europe was declared. He left college to participate in the war and after its close he found in France so much reconstruction work to do, and his services became so valuable, that he has remained in France ever since, coming back about a month ago to visit his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Sanford, of Jason terrace. It has been especially gratifying to have their son home, even for a brief time, because of the illness of Mr. Sanford. Last September the Boston dailies ran a story giving an account of the splendid work Mr. Sanford had done in the rebuilding of a little village, the money for which had been given by Miss Belle Skinner, of Holyoke. The name of the village is Hattionchatel, Meuse, France. Mr. Sanford is the foreign representative in foreign countries for the memorial committee of the Massachusetts dead in the World War, and he is soon sailing to take up his work once again.

—Rev. Frank Lincoln Masseck, for several years pastor of Arlington Universalist church, but now of Santa Paula, California, has found time to prepare and have printed in a most attractive form, a brief historical sketch of Ventura county, in which is the town where his church is located. The pamphlet is profusely illustrated in blacks and browns and makes a strong appeal just now to one who enjoys sunshine and warmth rather more than —The Clare Bible class, of the First Baptist church, held its annual business meeting and election of officers, on Monday evening, at the church. At this time, the teacher of the class, Mrs. Clare, was presented with ten dollars in gold, showing the esteem in which she is held by the members of the class. The following officers were elected:—President, Mrs. B. F. Wells; Vice-President, Mrs. William Robinson; Secretary, Miss Rawson; Treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Davies. The annual guest night will be held on Monday evening, February 4th.

—The annual New Year party of the Unitarian church was held on Friday, January 4th. The children were entertained in the afternoon with games and stories by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Attebery and Miss Helen M. Dow, and at half past five, had supper. At six thirty, a turkey supper was served to the older people, about three hundred sitting down. The Social Alliance, Mrs. Arthur J. Wellington, president, had charge. The dining room committee consisted of Mesdames Edward A. Bailey, Guy E. Sanger, George A. Winn, and Alexander H. Rice, and the kitchen committee, Mesdames Robert N. Turner, Harold Storke and Remington Plumer. The entertainment was a sleight-of-hand performance by a well-known young man from Boston, and greatly pleased both old and young. The entire evening was most enjoyable.

A. H. S. ALUMNI BEATS A. H. S.

The High school ice hockey set-off officially opened its season on Saturday afternoon on Hills pond with a game against the Alumni, this being the postponed annual game which is usually played on Christmas morning. It was a hard fought battle all the way through and it was not until near the final few minutes of the last period that Murphy shot the puck through the Arlington goal posts for what was the winning point of the game. The two teams played hard and fast and it was a good game all the way through. Hardy, playing center for the Alumni had to be taken out of the game after receiving a dislocated thumb and a lacerated nose from a flying puck. He was replaced by Burnham. Philip Bower, who was playing a good game up to this time for the Alumni also suffered an injury, his foot being hurt and necessitating his removal from the game, his place being taken by Muir. The High school team went through the game intact so far as injuries were concerned.

The High school boys drew first blood of the game, Captain John Buckley sending the puck into the Alumni net in the opening period of play. This period ended without any more scores being made. In the second period, Hardy and Bower both scored for the Alumni and the game stood two to one for the Alumni coming into the last period. In this last period Bower and Murphy scored for the Alumni and Nazro and Scanlan scored for the High school. It was a good game, showing two good teams playing hard and fast hockey and every advantage being taken to make the points for the two teams. The summary:—

BASKETBALL GAMES

The Boys of the High school opened their basketball season in the High school gymnasium, last Friday afternoon, taking on the Alumni team and winning by a score of 25 to 17. The Alumni started in strong in the first half and had the advantage of the argument, but showed how out of form they were during the second half, when the High school boys played well and piled up their score. The boys' team, like that of the girls', wore new uniforms of bright red with gray trimmings. They are distinctive to say the least and quite conspicuous during the game. The High school team showed up very well and gave signs of having the makings of another championship team, although this line of sport is new to the boys making up this year's team. This game is one of a series which Coach Henrius intends to have with the Alumni and some lively contests are expected as the season progresses, for the Alumni feel certain that they can stage a come-back and beat the High school boys in the next contest. The players on the High school team need no introduction to the public, for they all made a good showing the past season at football and are taking up the indoor sport to keep in trim. The summary:—

The Girls' Basketball team of the High school, played its first game of the season, last Friday afternoon, defeating the Alumnae by an overwhelming score of 52 to 20. The High school girls showed speed and good playing, while the Alumnae were somewhat out of practice. Mary Mahoney and Fiona Braithwaite played the forward positions for the High school team, both doing well, with Helen Lane coming in as sub and making eight of the points. The back field of the winning team played well and was able to break up many of the plays of the Alumnae team. The High school girls appeared in their new gym suits of red, trimmed with gray, and they made a very snappy appearance and they are easy to find on the floor, the red uniform standing out prominently against all other colors. The summary of the game is as follows:

JUNIOR HIGH WEST NOTES

In a recent spelling test made out by a class in Boston University the median of the Junior High west pupils was the highest. Two schools had 55%; two others had 60%; but Junior High west had 70%. To continue this standard, the classes are to enter the state-wide spelling contest to be held January 23rd, 1924.

On Thursday before Christmas, the first issue of the first volume of "The Menotomy Beacon" was put into circulation. The cover design was by Edith Poole, class of 1924. Junior West. This issue includes the editorials, literary department, principal's column, a foreign department, a scouting department, Campfire Girls, sports, and jokes. There were twenty-five advertisers; twenty exchanges were sent out. The issue was dedicated to J. Stearns Cushing, former principal of the Junior High schools, of Arlington. The issue was complimented by Miss Mugan, assistant superintendent of the schools of Fall River, as being one of the best of its kind. The next issue comes out in March, and whereas this issue had a circulation of 300 copies, it is expected that this will increase to 350 copies in March.

The athletic teams for hockey and basketball are beginning their training now. The hockey team journeyed to Somerville, Monday, to play the Southern Junior High, at Somerville. Mr. Power has charge. The basketball equipment has been put in the Junior High west, and the students are enjoying the use of it. Mr. Gavin and Mr. Sullivan have charge of the basketball squad.

The cards for reports have been given out on Tuesday. The honor roll will appear next week.

The principal wishes to announce that on Tuesdays and Thursdays he will not be available for telephone calls or conferences during school hours, as he wishes to spend that time in his school for supervision free from interruption. In order that this may not inconvenience anyone, the principal will have office hours from 4 to 5.30, on Tuesday and Thursday of each school week. Appointments will be made for other hours, and messages will be taken by the office assistants on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

ZONING COMMITTEE ON THE JOB

The following letter is self explanatory and also interesting. [Ed. Mr. Editor:—Being mindful of the interest that your paper has indicated relative to the zoning project for the town of Arlington, I thought it might be interesting to acquaint you with the activities of the "Zoning Committee." The committee appointed by the moderator has had many meetings, always lasting late into the evening, and we have been diligent and active in formulating a zoning system which we hope will be adopted at the town meeting next March, when the same will be presented.

The committee has employed the services of Mr. Fox, who has almost a national reputation relative to scientific, equitable and proper zoning of cities and towns. I venture to say that he has walked fully 100 miles in Arlington. You have not overestimated the importance of this project and before final presentation of our report, we intend to have many hearings, with all precincts of the town represented, so that the town will be fairly, equitably and intelligently zoned, with benefit to all and hardship to none.

In closing would say that the committee welcomes the help of the local press in giving proper publicity from time to time in this very important matter.

Yours very truly,
Frank V. Noyes,
Chairman Zoning Committee.

PORTRAIT OF DR. LOWELL MASON PRESENTED TO LOCKE SCHOOL BY STUDY CLUB

It was a most appreciative audience that gathered at the Locke school auditorium, last Tuesday afternoon, January 8th, for the observing of "Mason Day."

The program of the afternoon opened with remarks by the chairman, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, president of the Arlington Heights Study Club. A quartet of the following members, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, Mrs. H. H. Stinson, Mrs. E. L. Shinn and Mrs. George Wood, sang several of Lowell Mason's hymns. The pupils of the school in charge of Miss Hanson, music teacher for the Locke school, and under the direction of Miss Grace Pierce, sang some of Mason's songs, including the first ever sung in the American schools. Mrs. C. E. Dallin unveiled the portrait of Dr. Lowell Mason, which was presented to the Locke school by the Arlington Heights Study Club.

Mr. Henry Mason, grandson of Dr. Mason and head of the Mason Hamlin piano and organ firm, gave a most interesting talk on Dr. Mason and the work that he attempted and accomplished. A selection was rendered by the quartet, the number of which was one of Dr. Mason's. Miss Pierce gave a talk on what is being done in the schools today along musical lines, in contrast to the days when Dr. Mason established music. Illustrations were given by the children with their blackboard work and songs.

The program closed with the entire audience singing that well known hymn of Mason's, "Nearer My God To Thee." Rev. H. L. Stratton, of the Park Avenue Congregational church, is going to follow up this observance of Mason's birthday with an evening of Mason's hymns at the church, on Sunday evening, January 20th. On that evening, Mr. Henry Mason will speak.

CUTTER-BALMER WEDDING

One of the first weddings of the new year, in the Heights section of the town, occurred on Tuesday evening, when Miss Helen M. Balmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Balmer, of 1205 Mass. avenue, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Mr. Abbott S. Cutter, of Dedham, Mass.

The ceremony, which was the double ring, was performed at the home of the bride's parents, at 8 o'clock, by the Rev. J. K. Gault, of Cambridge, Mass. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Esther G. Balmer, and Mr. Joseph Biddard, of Dedham, was chosen as the best man. The ushers were, Mr. Earl Balmer and Mr. A. G. Robinson.

The bride was most charming in her white satin gown, trimmed with pearls and wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white bride roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was in pink canton crepe and carried pink rose buds. A reception was held at the home, following the ceremony, to which some seventy-five relatives and friends were invited. The house was attractively decorated with palms and cut flowers. During the evening Lohengrin's wedding march was played.

After a wedding trip, which will include New York, Washington and Southern Pines, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Cutter will reside at 82 Ames street, Dedham, Mass., where Mr. Cutter is established in business. They will be at home to their friends after March first.

The bride is very popular in the Heights section and has been employed for some time at the N. M. Brown dry goods store, where she had made many friends by her pleasing manner.
